Why you should choose a BWCA Member for your Water Coolers

The BWCA is an industry association and accreditation body which exists for the purpose of:

-Promoting water and hydration for employee health, productivity and wellbeing
- Providing an informed choice of bottled or mains-fed coolers
-Regulating strict cooler sanitisation and hygiene standards

Hydration you can trust – BWCA Members: the cooler choice

Water is a food product – hygiene and safety are essential and strict guidelines must be followed. Your peace of mind can be assured by sourcing your coolers from a BWCA Member who must:

- Adhere to strict Codes of Practice on water source and distribution.
- Pass strict annual audits carried out by independent certification organisations.
- Employ qualified service personnel who operate to the highest standards of safety and hygiene.

All BWCA Members must undertake mandatory training in:

- Hygiene Awareness
- Depot Management
- Bottling Plant Operation
- WRAS Approved mains-fed Cooler Installation

All BWCA Members must follow recycling guidelines for coolers, bottles, cups and packaging.

When you source a water cooler, either mains-fed or bottled, make sure that the supplier is a BWCA Member ensuring you receive an unimpeachable and excellent quality product.
